

Latex can come from so many places.

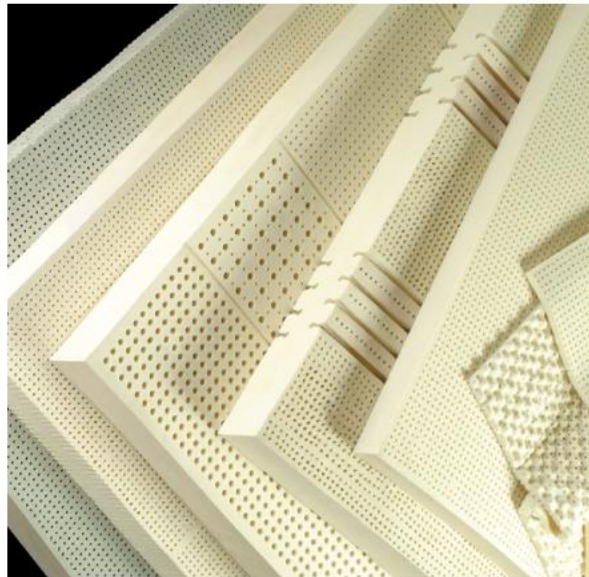

Where do you get yours from?

The word Latex does not mean it is Natural. Only a 100% Pure Natural Latex mattress carries Latex from the Rubber Tree which is a huge contributor to minimizing the global carbon footprint.

Arpico is one of the few companies in the world with a fully integrated supply chain of manufacturing 100% Pure Natural Latex, providing you with the best control as well as complete traceability of the natural content on our latex.

ARPICO is also the pioneer and biggest manufacturer of 100% Natural Latex in Sri Lanka with over 50 years of experience in the Latex industry. Sourcing latex from our own plantations and processing them in our own facilities, we make sure that our latex is up to the highest standards in the world.

Arpico Latex products are now available in our Warehouses in Toronto and Vancouver.
